Miss Kathryn Roddy returned to Alliance the first of the week and will succeed Miss Beaumont as teacher in the Central school, the latter having resigned to accompany her mother to California.

Members of the Commercial club are advised by letters from the secretary, of the employment of a stenographer at the club rooms. This is a convenience every member should, and no doubt will, appreciate.

"The Missouri Girl," given at the opera house Monday night, was a typical Missouri cast and full of Missouri jokes. It was well played and highly appreciated. Broome and Harris are securing excellent plays.

Attorney Lee Card of Chadron and C. A. Robbins, a Dawes county farmer, had business in the metropolis Monday. Mr. Robbins reports pretty good crops on the table lands this season. Himself and brother raised 3500 bushels of small grain from 200 acres.

E. H. Scott, from the Baldwin piano works, returned to this city last Monday to the great delight of his many friends. Mr. Scott will again push the campaign of piano talk and as he has the best in the land, will no doubt meet with the success the Baldwin attains all over.

Geo. Molling left Tuesday morning for a visit with his sister in Kansas City. The gloom that so suddenly overshadowed his home has caused him to seek the company of those nearest his heart and for a few days' companionship before he again resumes his place in the business world.

Mrs. Frank A. Willis, wife of the coal manager for the Burlington road, at Whitman, died last Saturday night of paralysis. Deceased has suffered with this ailment for the past four years. Undertaker Geo. Darling prepared the remains for shipment to Elmwood, Neb., last Monday.

Twenty-seven years ago when Governor-elect Shallenberger left college he came to Nebraska and entered the employ of J. L. Johnson, now cashier of the Valley State Bank. There Mr. Shallenberger earned his first money and entered upon the career which will soon place him in the governor's chair.—Bridgeport News-Blade.

John N. Clark, a well known former resident of Alliance, arrived in the city last Sunday morning to look after business matters and visit friends. He and his brother, George, are engaged in the lumber business in Oklahoma and doing well, we are pleased to note.

Mike Elmore and son John returned the first of the week from Missouri, having shipped several cars of horses from the Gillette, Wyoming, ranch to the farm at Marshal a few days ago. There was one car of Shetland ponies in the lot and Master Willie and Everett O'Keefe are proud of a fine pony given them by Mr. Elmore.

Father Roach, Father McNamara's assistant, came down from Alliance and conducted Mass here Tuesday. Father Roach will have charge of the work here from now on, and services will be held in the Catholic church every third Sunday. This is his first visit to the sand hills, he having arrived in America but four weeks ago.—Hyannis Tribune.

The subject of sewerage is one that naturally interests all our citizens and it is therefore in order for them to go to the city hall tomorrow night and hear Andrew Rosewater, the well known civil engineer of Omaha, speak on the subject. Mr. Rosewater is qualified to tell us just what is best in this direction and when we are in a position to act, his knowledge of sewerage questions will be advantageous to the city of Alliance. Remember, Mr. Rosewater will speak at the city hall tomorrow (Friday) night.

A smooth-fingered crook worked the old game of change on some of the city's fair clerks one day recently. In two instances it is said he came out with $10 to the good in his flim-flam game. The scheme is to make purchase and hand over a bill of considerable denomination in payment of same. While the clerk is in the act of making the change the purchaser discovered that he has the exact money. This is accepted but the stranger also sees to it that he not only secures his bill but also considerable of the change in addition and before the discovery is made he has disappeared.

The Pandora Girls, a club of ten members, met at the home of the Misses Hazel and Frances Bowman where they entertained a few invited guests. The evening was very pleasantly spent in playing some original and merry games. At about 10:30 the guests were directed into the dining room, which was prettily decorated in club colors, pink and white, and there they partook of a delicious four course luncheon. Amid the clatter of dishes and merry chatter, they were greeted by the musical strains of a male quartet. After luncheon another game was played and all having received a carnation in token of the evening, departed, expressing appreciation of the cordial welcome extended them by their hostesses.

"The Girl and The Stampede"

Victor H. Lambert's great play, "The Girl and The Stampede," has its locals in Wyoming. It places on the stage for the first time, habitants that have never been exploited and drawn a broad and realistic picture of the real characters that possess the true and big-hearted westerner. The piece received its initial performance in the New York theatre. New York, three seasons ago where it had a remarkable run of one hundred and thirty-eight nights. The company that presents it in this city, headed by Grace Hayes-Lambert, is the same all-star cast that has been enjoying the praises of the press and theatre-going public throughout the east. At the Phelan Opera House, Thursday, Nov. 19th.

Teachers' Annual State Meeting

The annual meeting of the state teachers' association took place in Lincoln last Thursday and Friday, and it is given that in the forty-one years of its existence, this was the greatest meeting in the history of the organization in numbers in attendance, and merit of program. Box Butte county was presented by the following educators: County Superintendent Phillips, D. W. Hayes, H. H. Riemund, Misses Ida Johnson, Elda Bacon, Frances Scott, Susie Frazier, Lulu Wirts, Miss Briggs. Hemingford—Prof. William Deaver, Misses Emma Nerud, Eva Blanchard.

This is commendable and it is gratifying to see all hands in the educational field taking hold of work that is the bulkwork and safeguard of our nation. Education is the weapon stronger than the sword and yet that which brings peace and blessings to all mankind. Let the good work go on throughout the nation and the entire world.
